SHOULD STUDY BILLS

MANY BILLS BEFORE LEGISLATURE THAT SERIOUSLY AFFECT STATE'S INDUSTRIES

There are many bills before the legislature affecting the state's horticultural, viticultural, poultry and dairy interests which deserve careful study on the part of those interested. Senate bill 332, by Birdsall, extending municipal functions to boards of supervisors, amends section 41 of the political code, and extends the general powers of boards of supervisors. Provides a new section for the employment, by a three-fifths vote, of a road engineer, and also permits any county in the state to own and operate cement plants and sell the product to the state, public corporations and the people; to levy a tax creating a fund of not over $5000 per year to advertise the counties, prohibiting the care of the indigent sick and poor by contract, and many other provisions.

There are also several bills known as "state market bills." Assembly bill 243, by McPherson, establishes a standard for the packing and marketing of apples, fixes penalties for the violation of its provision, and provides for its enforcement.

Assembly bill 318, by McPherson of Santa Cruz, creates a state commission market, with a board of three directors, appointed by the governor, whose salaries shall be $5000 per year each. The directors shall establish in any and all cities and towns in their judgment necessary stations for the receiving, care, sale and distribution of the agricultural, dairy, farm and fishery products of the state. They shall establish at least three executive headquarters, one of which shall be in San Francisco and another in Los Angeles. All producers shall have the right to consign and deliver their products to the commission, at any of its depots or branches, for sale. The commission shall sell and distribute to dealers, consumers and all buyers such products to the best possible advantage of the producer, and shall charge a just and reasonable commission for such services. The term of office of each director shall be six years. The commission shall have a secretary at a salary of $3600 per year and an attorney at $4000.

Assembly bill 851, by Ashley, and senate bill 862, by Chandler, is the fruit standardization bill, and provides the specifications for the packing of any box, baskets or containers of fresh fruits of the kind specified in the act, exempting fresh fruit sold in bulk without packing. The fruits specified are cherries, peaches, pears, plums and apricots, grapes and berries. Prescribes the size and shape of the box, crate, or other package, and that it shall bear the name, variety and number or weight of the contents of each box, and shall bear in plain sight and in plain letters, on the outside, the name of the person or persons, or recognized name of the orchard and postoffice address, who first packed the same. County horticultural commissioners shall enforce the act. Violations of the act is a misdemeanor, the maximum fine for which shall be $50.

Senate bill 341, by Brown, is known as the "state market commission bill." It creates a state market commission of five members, appointed by the governor, for six years, from the state at large. The annual salary of each commissioner shall be $6000, the salary of the attorney $4000, the salary of the secretary $3000, and the salaries of all other officers, clerks, laborers, employees and all other persons under the commission shall be fixed by the commission.

The commission shall establish at least two offices, one in San Francisco and one in Los Angeles. The commission shall have power to organize, manage, control and carry on the business of receiving on consignment, selling and shipping to dealers and consumers, within or without the state, all agricultural, horticultural, dairy and farm products which shall be grown, raised, produced, processed or manufactured within the state. All producers within the state shall have a right to confine their products to the commission for sale and distribution.

The commission shall establish in other cities and towns such receiving and distributing stations as are necessary. It shall be the duty of the commission to maintain a bureau of information and correspondence. It shall charge all producers, taking benefit of this act, such fees, charges and costs as may be just and reasonable. Two hundred thousand dollars is appropriated to establish the commission.

Senate bill 898, by Maddox, is practically a copy of senate bill 341, other than bill 898 designates the bill is the state produce exchange act, and

ENCOURAGE THE LIVING

IN HONORING THE DEAD WE SHOULD NOT FORGET PRESIDENT WILSON

Today when millions of citizens of the United States are doing honor to the memory of George Washington, there is a tendency on the part of a few to speak lightly of the acts of the head of our republic.

President Wilson may not be as great a man as either Lincoln or Washington, but let us not forget that his administration is one involving great questions. Not since Lincoln's administration has there been an administration of such marked events.

President Wilson is acting cautiously and wisely. He is a safe man to have at the head of the nation at the present time. At first consideration his views have not been the views of the majority of the people, but after due consideration the views and decisions of Wilson were considered as being the very best course to pursue.

Give all possible honor to the memory of Washington, but in so doing we should not neglect to give earnest support to the men who are leaders of our nation at the present time.

TROPICO

A number of citizens of Tropic will attend the entertainment to be given by the Glendale Parent-Teacher association in the auditorium of the Glendale Union high school this evening. Miss Frances Richardson, "the flag lady," who is the only lecturer who has taken the American flag as her subject, is very popular with the citizens of this valley.

A most delightful treat for the members of N. P. Banks Post and Corps awaits them Saturday evening, when John Stathern and W. J. Hibbert give a complimentary benefit at G. A. R. hall. The subject of this interesting entertainment is Valley Forge and Gettysburg and consists of 150 illustrations depicting both battlefields and incidents thereto in past and present periods. This program is given under the auspices of N. P. Banks Camp, Sons of Veterans.

Mrs. David H. Imler entertained with a dinner party at her home, Palm Villa, Sunday, complimentary to her house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Oren of Colorado City, who are spending three months in the coast district. The table was centered with a graceful arrangement of pink carnations and ferns. Seated with Mrs. Imler were her guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Oren; Dr. and Mrs. Roy V. Hogue and son, Benj. Hogue; Miss Esther Schremp and Miss Margaret Boucher of Glendale, J. B. Hickman, Miss Cora Hickman, Miss Marjorie Imler and Eugene H. Imler.

Dr. A. M. Duncan, whose recent illness was the cause of much solicitude among his legion of friends, is convalescing at his home on San Fernando road.

Many flags in Tropic floated from public buildings, places of business and residences in honor of Washington's birthday.

Mrs. Eustace Benton Moore was one of the number of guests who attended the china shower given Miss Evelyn Cornell in Los Angeles Saturday afternoon. The marriage of Miss Cornell will occur Tuesday evening in the Church of the Nazarene.

Military strategists have invented a complete set of euphemistic phrases for all occasions. What could be happier than "seeking covering positions?"

This business of "sweeping the seas" is merely a figure of speech.

differs only in minor details.

There are also three rural credit bills, a department of engineering, a department of agriculture, and a department of natural resources, which require study.

MORE MISSIONARIES

PROVISION MADE BY SEVENTH DAY ADVENTISTS FOR ADDITIONAL FUND OF $100,000

Provision for practically doubling the number of missionaries of the Seventh Day Adventists church throughout America entails upon the Adventists of southern California payment of 20 cents per week, in addition to the tithe, which is systematically paid. This was indorsed by the Southern California conference Sunday.

This 20 cents per member means the raising of a fund of fully $100,000, of which $75,000 will go to the support of foreign missions, while $25,000 will be returned in expenditure on the educational institutions of this field, providing better facilities for the training of missionaries.

A resolution was adopted by the conference Sunday warmly indorsing this special assessment of 20 cents per week per member, in addition to the tithe, which is a universal system with the Seventh Day Adventists. Last year the Adventists of California, Utah, Arizona and Nevada raised an average of 18 1-3 cents per week per member.

Elder I. H. Evans, president of the North American division conference, attended the conference sessions on Sunday and discussed the proposed resolution. He declared that fifteen cents per week per member from the North American division will place twice as many missionaries in the field as at present, and that the twenty cents per week plan will raise fully $100,000 in Southern California.

"The rapid growth of the Seventh Day Adventists during the past ten years is astonishing," said Elder Evans. In speaking of its material advancement he pointed out that during 1913 the denomination reduced its liabilities $93,000 and increased its assets $156,000.

Among the features of Sunday's conference work was the appointment of a committee of five to revise the constitution of the Southern California Sanitarium association. It was also decided that annual sessions of the conference shall be held hereafter in the winter, instead of in the summer, at the camp meetings, as has been the custom for some years.

The conference will take up the election of officers today, and it is expected that it will conclude its labors tomorrow. The division of the territory into two conferences will call for the relocation of various church workers and ministers.

Elder B. E. Beddoe of Fresno delivered the conference sermon Sunday evening at the Carr street Adventist church.

"When the Turk leaves Europe to go into Asia Minor on his way to establish his headquarters in Jerusalem," said the speaker, "this world will be shaken by a revival mightier than Pentecost."

"Preparation for the Final Conflict" was the theme of Elder Beddoe's sermon. He said in part:

"I hold that it is the teaching of the word of God that for years the nations of earth have been preparing for a great battle. This battle will close this world's history."

"For more than fifty years Germany was preparing for the Franco-Prussian war. Ever since that war she has been preparing for the present European conflict. All the beligerent powers of Europe have looked toward the present war for many years."

"Russia has been preparing for about three centuries to fulfill a little verse in the eleventh chapter of Daniel, that is, to drive the Turk from Europe and possess herself of Constantinople. This prophecy referred to tells us that Turkey will move the tabernacles of his palace to Jerusalem, and that this event will mark the beginning of the final world conflict. The very next verse says that at that time there shall be a time of trouble such as never has been since nations have existed."

"Turkey's removal also marks the final conflict through which the people of God will be called upon to pass, and out of which the Scriptures predicts that all those whose names are written in the book of life shall be delivered. I am not so concerned about the nations preparing for this conflict as I am that the people of earth shall be preparing for the most severe spiritual conflict that has ever been."

The conference assembled in session this morning, when a resolution was passed, protesting against the bill now before congress to restrict the freedom of the press. The bill is known as No. 20780 and has been introduced by Representative Gallevan. The bill says that matter shall not pass through the postoffice which "is or may be construed to be a reflection on any religious body" and the conference thinks that almost all publications have

CHURCHES QUICKENED

EVANGELISTS BROWN AND CURRY SWAY THOUSANDS TO SUN-KISSED HEIGHTS

(By Publicity Com.)

Up from the low level of the plains of Moab, where lives the average Christian in worldliness, professing but not possessing religion, Evangelist Brown swayed thousands of hearts and consciences to the sun-kissed heights of Pisgah at the two big Sunday services. Before the eyes of the saints Canaan rolled in beautiful vision and the fertile fields of a consistent and productive Christian life, of homes and cities turned to God, and of churches quickened with the dynamic of the gospel of Jesus Christ, never before appealed so strongly to the saints of God. These are blessed days, and upon the lips of multitudes, coming from honest hearts, is the earnest prayer, "Lord, plant my feet on higher ground."

Brown swung into action Sunday morning looking as fresh and rested as a man back from a long vacation, making one wonder the more what kind of timber grew in Missouri, certainly tall, straight and unbending to the storm. No man ever hit dancing harder than does the man from Siloam Springs (we almost wrote Salome by mistake), and yet a more graceful platform orator would be hard to find. There are times when one could easily imagine the preacher gracefully floating off the platform over the heads of his congregation without disturbing the hair of a head. He's a Southerner, all right. Classic features, lit with an eagle eye which blinks not to the lightning and yet strangely softening with mother love, dignified and yet carelessly informal, thoughtful for everyone and yet independent as a king, evidently of artistic temperament, judged by the long tapering fingers—this is the man that has set this part of the world afire in one week. There is power somewhere. Critics may differ, some attributing all to a remarkable personality, but others who know better see in John Brown a sanctified personality sent from God on a mission of glad tidings of salvation to a sad, weary, sin-sick humanity. At the services of Sunday were many of the leaders, socially, professionally and financially, of the cities of the valley. Ultimately everybody will crowd to hear the famous evangelist, for it is the chance of a lifetime.

At the Saturday evening service Brother Johnson led in an earnest prayer for the work of the campaign to prosper and for heaven's benediction upon the noted evangelists. Mr. Curry sang so sweetly "If Your Heart Keeps Right." The audience was visibly touched by the message in song. Acts 1:8 was chosen as the text for a striking sermon on witnessing for Christ. To be great preachers, great teachers or scholars, great singers, etc., are not the chief needs of the church and should not be the supreme ambitions of Christians, but rather to simply witness for Christ. The live church is a witnessing church. The dumb devil needs to be cast out of the prayer meetings. We should witness for Christ in the home, Jerusalem, and in the neighborhood, Judea and Samaria, and then to the uttermost part of the earth. The prospective missionary who goes to a foreign land before winning souls for Christ at home is a joke, if not a tragedy. We need to remember the man whom Christ forbade to follow him after delivering him from great bondage and whom he sent back home to his own neighborhood to tell what great things Christ had done for him. "Please Go 'Way and Let Me Sleep" would be a popular song in many churches.

The speaker showed what constitutes a good witness under four heads: First, a reputation for honesty; second, a knowledge of what you talk about; third, willingness to tell what you know.

"We must live every day on the level on which we testify." Too many Christians are certain about nothing. "Let me pillow my head on no guess-so,"—Joseph Cook.

The evangelist's appeal to Christians to be willing to tell what they know ought to start something. And every word should "weigh a ton!" Let's not forget the description of the prayer meeting six months from date.

A full house greeted the evangelists at the Sunday morning service. Pastor Troy led in prayer. Mr. Curry sang with great power "The Old-Fashioned Way," the audience not being able to refrain from applause, so touching and enjoyable was the message in song. Curry is a power in song.

Brother Curry's morning selection followed by a sermon with a pull on the conscience caused one of the

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

OPERETTA DECIDED SUCCESS—INTER-CLASS DEBATES FRIDAY—SPORT NEWS

The light operetta, "Penelope," which was given for the benefit of the music department of the high school Friday afternoon last, was a decided success, and by the way, a neat little sum of over thirty-five dollars was cleared for the music department fund.

Miss Dorothy Hobbs, who played the character role of Penelope, was excellently cast. Mr. Johnnie Stauffer proved his worth as a farceur, keeping the audience in continual good humor. Mr. Owen Emery in the role of Mr. Chalks, the milkman, deserves especial mention for his rendition of that part, while Mr. Shea and Miss Pauline Hamilton, who completed the cast, did very nicely in their respective parts.

Mrs. Dora L. Gibson of the music department had charge of the production, while Miss Abbie C. Terry of the expression department staged the affair.

Inter-Class Debates

The various classes of the high school are interested at the present time in preparing for the inter-class debates which are to be run off on Friday of this week. The champions of the school will receive an appropriate banner which is being made at the present time. Those contestants and the classes they represent are as follows:

Senior—Affirmative team: Donald Cowlin and Joe Fishel; negative team, Harriet Hannawalt and Grace Crampton.

Junior—Affirmative team, Frank Bridgeford and Joseph Maier; negative team, Katharine Green and Howard Stickney.

Sophomore—Affirmative team, Alvin Dunn and Wm. Bode; negative team, Vernis Martin and Carol Foss.

Freshmen—Affirmative team, Herbert Scheigner and Roland Dimmick; negative team, Harlan Durand and Thomas C. White.

The question to be debated is: Resolved, that the Glendale Union high school next September should introduce a course in military tactics.

In Occidental Meet

Glendale high school is to be represented in the Occidental track meet today by Bidwell, Glazier, Cowlin, Beach, Seay and Renshaw. The local boys are entered in the hundred yard dash, high jump and half-mile relay events.

High School Growing

The new buildings of the high school group are being rapidly put into service through reorganization of departments and the increased enrollment which comes with the mid-winter semester.

In order to provide instruction for all of the incoming students of the mid-year, classes in all the subjects offered the September class, it has been necessary to take on two part time teachers. These are Mrs. Nellie B. Shepard of Los Angeles, who will teach drawing, and Miss Mary M. Donichy of 1459 Ivy street, Glendale, who will have classes in Latin, commercial arithmetic and English.

Washington's Birthday Celebrated

The high school was dismissed for this afternoon in celebration of Washington's natal day, in as much as exercises will be held at the high school this evening. These exercises which are especially for the grown-ups and high school pupils, is the "flag lady" program which has been previously announced in The News.

MULES WITHOUT OWNER

Saturday morning a team of mules hitched to a wagon was seen by Deputy City Marshal E. G. Laurence standing near Lund's blacksmith shop on Third street. Supposing the owner was somewhere near, no more attention was given to the mules until evening, when they were found in the same place without having received any attention. Under the direction of Chief of Police G. H. Herald the mules were cared for. Up to the present writing, Monday at one o'clock p. m., the owner of the mules has not put in his appearance.

Very likely he read Governor Johnson's holiday declaration, and knowing no manual labor would be performed Saturday, Sunday and Monday, decided to enjoy a three days' vacation.

Tomorrow being the first legal working day since last Friday, he will likely be on hand tomorrow morning bright and early and redeem the mules and wagon.

The La Halla Thimble club met in an all-day session with Mrs. B. F. Cook of 1434 West Fifth street on Friday. Luncheon was served at noon and a very busy day spent by the ladies, who are making aprons, quilts, etc., for the bazaar they will hold later in the year.

BUSY DAY FOR LADIES

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB IS PLANNING BIG TIME FOR TOMORROW

Tuesday will be a very busy day for the Tuesday Afternoon club at the Masonic Hall. From eleven to twelve a parliamentary contest will be held. Mrs. Gleason, who is the district chairman, will be present; and the winner in this contest will go to Long Beach to represent this club in the contest with other winners at the convention to be held there March 2nd to 5th.

From twelve to twelve-thirty the advisory council will hold a luncheon. Each chairman is requested to bring her own luncheon with her and Mrs. Martin, chairman of the hospitality committee, will serve hot coffee at so much per cup.

From twelve-thirty to one-thirty the advisory council will meet in a business session. At one-thirty to two-thirty the legislative section will meet and Mrs. E. K. Foster of Los Angeles will address them on the "Personnel of the present legislature." Mrs. Foster gave an address before the Friday morning club, recently. She is considered one of the most forceful speakers of today on legislative matters. All club members are earnestly urged to be present, also to bring their friends.

Then at two-thirty promptly the club will convene in the main hall. The program will be in charge of the new vice-president, Mrs. Daniel Campbell, who will preside for the afternoon. It is to be a patriotic afternoon and the program is as follows: Violin solo, Miss Frances Payne. The girls' glee club of the high school, dressed in red, white and blue, will give some selections. Captain Wells, honorary member of the club, will read some original verses to the flag, and Rev. W. E. Edmonds will give an address on "Patriotism."

ELKS ENTERTAIN 1400

Fourteen hundred children of Glendale and vicinity were made happy Saturday afternoon and are still thinking that the men of the Elks' lodge in Glendale are the very best fellows ever. All the children of this community were invited by the Elks without any restrictions whatever to a Washington's birthday celebration on Saturday afternoon. The showers of Saturday seemed to have no influence on the enthusiasm of the crowd, which began to gather long before the time set, and this same spirit of jollity prevailed throughout the afternoon. Brother William Herman West, the inimitable, entertained the young guests with a song and Brother Charles L. Evans gave a brief patriotic address which the children seemed to appreciate. Two patriotic pictures were shown thereby aiding in instilling in the children's minds the spirit of love and loyalty to home and country. Two Keystone reels showing Charlie Chaplin brought forth gales of laughter. After the program the guests were escorted to the Elks' clubrooms, where Mr. West again entertained them with his jolly songs and where ice cream was served.

Fourteen hundred children went home happy with pretty pennant souvenirs of the day to remind them of the pleasant occasion. Such an occasion of that of Saturday is a bright spot in the life of a child and the Elks are to be commended for their double purpose in honoring the birthday of Washington and giving the children a happy day, especially is this commendation due to Brothers Frank McKenney, W. M. Kimball and R. M. Jackson, the committee in charge of this "Big Brother" party.

MRS. WHITING HERE

Mrs. Calvin Whiting has recently come from Illinois to join her husband in Glendale and for the present they will be located at 235 South Louise street.

Mrs. Whiting will be an addition to Glendale's long list of talented people, as she is a vocalist of note, having studied under the leading musicians of the east. She is also a reader of ability and will be warmly welcomed by those who recognize talent.

MERCHANTS' BANQUET

The banquet committee of the Glendale Merchants' association met a few days ago and decided upon March 25 as being a suitable date for their big dollar banquet. The plan of the committee is to have Mrs. Bancroft serve the supper in the Masonic temple.

Members of the Southern California Merchants' association have promised to purchase a large number of banquet tickets. A program will be given in connection with the banquet.

DEVELOPING HARBORS ON THIS COAST

It is quite significant of the new commercial era upon which this western front of the nation is entering, that extensive harbor improvements and elaborate preparations for greater shipping are being made up and down this Pacific coast. The noble natural ports of California, Oregon and Washington are being made more serviceable for the expansion of seagoing commerce, which is coming as a natural concomitant of the opening of the canal and the shifting of trade routes and centers of commercial interest.

Let no one be so narrow as to feel that the Pacific coast inland has no material interest in the development of these port facilities along this coast. On the contrary, this preparation for a larger commerce and the development of this larger trade are of great benefit to the whole West. Indeed, it is hardly exaggerating to assert that the interior region—the region that produces raw material and finished products for this commerce and, in turn, receives its shipments of necessities at lower freight rates than before the canal competition came—this inland empire will benefit even more generously from the expansion of Pacific coast commerce than the port cities themselves.—Pasadena Star.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., entertained twenty-four of her friends at one of the pleasantest affairs of the season. ## NO TROUBLE AT ALL

A tall, raw-boned, red headed countryman was accused in the city court of Valosta of wife-beating. When arraigned he very promptly pleaded "Not guilty." Not being able to employ counsel, I was appointed by the court to defend him. Taking him to one side, I said: "Now, tell me exactly what took place between yourself and your wife."

"Wasn't nothing took place," he said.

"Then why did your wife swear out this warrant? What was the trouble?"

"Oh," he says, "they wasn't no trouble at all. Last Sunday morning me and my little boy went out in the garden and got some potatoes for breakfast and brung 'em in the kitchen. I told my wife to cook 'em, and she said she wouldn't do no such thing; we must eat 'em raw. Then she tuck some more potatoes and put 'em in a pot to cook for her and the gal. I told her if me and the boy had to eat 'em raw, her and the gal would have to eat raw ones, too, and I knocked the pot off the stove. Then she tuck the ax and busted the stove all to pieces and then I slapped her down, and that was all they was to it. Jest no trouble at all."—West's Docket.

A LITTLE FARM

San Fernando Press: Happy is he who owns a little farm. The truth of the above sentence can be more readily realized and appreciated by those who do not own a little farm now.

In the time of business depression, when factories close down, big industries discharge thousands of employees and many thousands of job-seekers tramp the streets looking in vain for work, it is then that the man who owns a little farm can look from the door of his happy and cozy little home and inwardly and outwardly thank the good fortune that led him to invest in a little farm. Today there is no greater opportunity for a young man than the farm offers. Farming as carried on this day has become a business proposition, founded on sound common-sense methods, backed up with scientific knowledge of the soil and its usage.

PARIS OUT-MODED

The recent style shows held in this country demonstrated conclusively that American designers are able to lead Paris in the creation of fashions. The models exhibited in the Paris openings held a week later followed the precise lines forecast by the American designers.

This was not an accident. Style is no longer local—it is international—and American designers long have been as able and as advanced as any in the world.—Collier's.

Seattle is now obtaining excellent publicity through the use of a poster stamp. This is being affixed by public-spirited citizens to outgoing mail and reads "See Seattle in 1915." The design is attractively worked out in gold, green and black.

Knitting is a Scotch invention of the fifteenth century. Soon after its invention a guild of stocking knitters was formed with St. Flacie as its patron saint. Hand knitting was supplemented by machinery as early as 1589, when William Lee invented the knitting frame.

BREATHES THERE THE MAN?

Breathes there the man with soul so dead,

Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own, my native land!

Whose heart hath ne'er within him burned,
As home his footsteps he hath turned
From wandering on a foreign strand?

If such there be, go mark him well!
For him no minstrel raptures swell;
High though his titles, proud his name,
Boundless his wealth as wish can claim—

Despite those titles, power and pelf,
The wretch, concentered all in self,
Living, shall forfeit fair renown,
And doubly dying, shall go down
To the vile dust from whence he sprung,
Unwept, unhonored and unsung.

—Sir Walter Scott.

TO EXTEND VOCATIONAL TRAINING

The California state board of education has prepared a measure encouraging vocational training and has caused its introduction in the legislature by an Alameda county lawmaker. The direct purpose of the workings of the bill is to give greater and more general opportunity in this state for agricultural, industrial, trade, commercial and all other practical subjects in the seventh and eighth grades of any elementary school, or in any high school of California. The proposed act provides state aid to any schools teaching such subjects, to the extent of one-third the amount expended in instruction in vocational subjects.

The main purpose of the act is to encourage the establishment and maintenance of courses of instruction in the public schools, that will prepare in some skilled occupation, the youths of the state, who are not fortunate enough to secure such training elsewhere or in the university or technical schools. The act not only provides state aid for practical vocational courses in the regular schools and evening vocational schools, but it also provides for the establishment and support of day continuation and evening schools.

At the present time, barring private technical schools, the state university and state normal schools are the only free public vocational schools in California, and since they provide a training for less than ten per cent of the youths of the state, the remaining ninety per cent turned out from the schools without any training whatever in vocational pursuits, which they might follow to make a living. In this age of specialization, the youth who has ended his period of schooling without requiring any craft knowledge is seriously handicapped and very liable to drift into habits of idleness and instability that seriously impairs his citizenship.

Furthermore, the measure advocated by the state board of education provides state aid for vocational guidance so that the young people may secure expert advice before choosing a vocational course in the schools, or upon entering an occupation after leaving school. Provision is also made for vocational surveys by all local boards of education establishing vocational educational courses in their schools. This is considered essential in order that particular occupations may not be crowded by preparing too many individuals along the same line.

Provision is also made to give our youths taking the vocational training practical experience in active industry by arranging for a certain amount of work to be performed in shops and manufacturers in the fields, orchards and dairies, where proprietors are willing to thus forward the practical education of California children.

Local boards may also make a certain amount of vocational work compulsory, where desirable, in their judgment.

ARE FIGHTING FOR RIGHT TO VOTE

There are 500,000 men in the United States capable of voting intelligently, irrespective of any political party, who are disfranchised!

These men, all American citizens and 75 per cent of them American born, constitute the traveling public, made up of traveling salesmen and traveling theatrical people—men who understand the business conditions and needs of the country; who pay the highest cost of living; who maintain the railroads and hotels, and who are in reality the blood that is flowing through the veins of commerce. Yet they are disfranchised. Why? Because on election day they are away from their homes and therefore unable to vote.

These men want to vote. They are waging at the present time a systematic nation-wide battle for the privilege of suffrage. United into "The Travelers' Good Government association," an organization of 120,000 members, they are fighting to pass the absent voters' act—a bill which provides that any citizen may vote in any district in which he happens to be on election day upon presentation of a certificate of identification from the election judges or county clerk of his own district.

Already the association has been instrumental in passing this act in eight states—Minnesota, Arizona, Massachusetts, Missouri, North Dakota, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Wisconsin—and it is now up for consideration in Oregon.

One of the most ardent supporters of this measure is Billy B. Van, famous comedian, who was responsible for the organization of "The Travelers' Good Government association."

"I live in Van Harbor, a town in New Hampshire named after me," said Billy Van. "I own most of the town, pay two-thirds of the taxes, am justice of the peace—the highest office in the town—and yet I have no voice in its government! Can you beat that? Although I own everything but the jail, still I can't vote in my home town! Now you understand why we traveling men are waging the fight for the absent voters' act. If we can pass it in two-thirds of the states, then we have the right to demand that it be made a constitutional amendment, thus giving us the privilege of voting on national issues, as well as local problems."

Manufacturers of armor, explosives and guns will make enough money out of the present war to build some more peace palaces and found funds for peace prizes.

THE STORE CAT DOOMED

Bid farewell to the old store cat in Illinois which for so many years has waged efficient nocturnal war upon the malicious rodent that attacked the stronghold of limburger, the sugar barrel and the flour bin. The great and mighty state of Illinois has decreed that the feline warrior must go and has taken up the task of killing every one of the nine lives of the offending animal.

A. R. Lewis, deputy inspector of the state food commission, has sounded the doom on Illinois mice-catchers who make the stores their homes. The extermination of the store cat, he said, is one of the three chief features of the campaign in that state for pure food.

In the meat markets, grocery stores and bakeries they are under the ban of the law for it has been discovered that cats are great carriers of disease germs and when they are left to their own devices there is no knowing what they may get into and inoculate with all sorts of dreaded bacteria. So the state authorities have issued an ultimatum to the store keepers that they must not have cats about their places of business.

In meat markets, however, it is a peculiar fact, according to Inspector Lewis, that cats do not live for any length of time. It is believed, he says, that the unusual amount of meat they eat when their home is a market brings about an early death. —Whiteside, Illinois, Sentinel.

NOT UP TO HIS JOB

William Dean Howells, at a dinner in Boston, said of modern American letters:

"The average popular novel shows, on the novelist's part, an ignorance of his trade, which reminds me of a New England clerk.

"In a New England village I entered the main street department store one afternoon and said to the clerk at the book counter:

"Let me have, please, the 'Letters of Charles Lamb.'"

"Postoffice right across the street, Mr. Lamb," said the clerk with a polite, brisk smile.

Among the Glendale people who were guests at the whist party given by Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Brown of 2420 South Grand avenue, Los Angeles, on Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Legrand and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy H. Herrod.

Mr. R. A. Buck and family who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. Z. Barnett of 502 W. 9th street for several weeks, are now leaving for San Francisco to visit the exposition, going from thence to their home in the east. They have had a delightful winter and have enjoyed every day of their visit in Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pruyn of Clark, S. D., were in Glendale the latter part of last week, guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Parker of 311 South Louise street. Mr. Pruyn, who publishes a newspaper in Clark, is spending the winter in the King apartments, Los Angeles. Mr. Parker and Mr. Pruyn formed an acquaintanceship many years ago in Marshalltown, Iowa, where both of these gentlemen were engaged in business.

On Friday evening Mrs. H. L. Legrand of 1442 West Third street entertained with a Five Hundred party in celebration of Mr. Legrand's birthday. Violets, ferns and camellias were tastefully arranged in decoration. There were three tables of players and when the game was finished it was found that Mrs. J. Stacey had won the ladies' prize and Mr. Stacey the gentlemen's. Refreshments were served at a late hour and the guests departed, all declaring that they had enjoyed a very happy evening.

Mr. Frederick Baker of 109 North Maryland avenue has been asked by the citizens of Whittier to speak before them in the Whittier high school auditorium Tuesday evening on the subject of the "Proposed Flood Control Legislation," a bill which has been introduced to provide a system of flood control. There are some features in the bill which are objectionable to the ranchers and the interests of the smaller towns, and Mr. Baker will discuss the matter with a view of suggesting amendments to make the bill more acceptable to the country districts.

Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson of 200 Orange street was greatly surprised on Saturday by a visit from her cousin, Mr. Albert Jones of Burlington, Vt., who is touring California and visiting the expositions.

Mrs. Wash Hunt and her sister, Mrs. E. J. Robbins of Chicago, have gone down to San Diego for a little trip, and will visit the exposition and other points of interest around San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Z. Barnett of 502 W. 9th street, with their house guests Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Buck and family, motored to Riverside, Redlands and San Bernardino on Friday, where they attended the orange show and returned to Glendale Saturday evening, having had a most enjoyable trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Buck of Worcester, Mass., have been visiting Mrs. Clotworthy of Tenth street and have been having a busy time taking in the sights. Among other trips was a day spent with Mrs. Usilton going to Pomona, Lankershim and all the small towns enroute. Today they are spending in Santa Monica and tomorrow they will go to Catalina, leaving tomorrow night for San Francisco to visit the exposition. Mr. and Mrs. Buck will be gone from home about three months. They came via the Panama canal and will return overland, stopping for a short stay in Laramie, Wyoming. They are delighted with Southern California and with Glendale in particular.

Mr. C. L. Chandler of Park avenue, Tropic, is in El Centro on a business trip of several days' duration.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. H. Addison, with their guests, Mr. and Mrs. John Addison of Canada, left Sunday morning for San Diego, where they will spend several days. The party went by automobile and will no doubt have a fine trip, as the roads are in pretty good condition at this time.

One of the pretty birthday parties of last week was that given by Mrs. B. F. Cook of 1434 West Fifth street in honor of the twelfth birthday of her little daughter Harriet. Everything in the dining room was in pink, with flowers, baskets, crepe paper and food all in the prevailing color. A beautiful birthday cake, alight with candles, occupied the place of honor and ice cream, cake and other dainties were enjoyed by the young guests, after which games were played and then all attended the picture show. Those present were Harriet Cook, Gladys Peckham, Dorris Packer, Gladys McMullen, Genevieve Mulligan, Grace and Fanny Tatlow, Avis Thompson, Margaret Lacom, Garnet and Fern Peters and Anna May Flower. ## FIRST ENGLISH EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH

Sunday, Feb. 21, was an occasion of especial interest—an able sermon at 11 a.m. by Rev. J. A. Miller of Saint Paul's church of Los Angeles. Immediately following the sermon an election was held for pastor, which resulted in unanimous vote for Rev. R. Warren Mottern of Riverside, where he has given nearly six years of very efficient and entirely successful work.

Rev. Mottern formerly came from the East Pennsylvania Evangelical Lutheran synod, one of the strong synods of the general body—a very able speaker, an excellent and successful pastor, a good man. The loss to Riverside in the departure of such an estimable citizen is gain to Glendale, and a most hearty welcome awaits his coming from those to whom shall be his ministry.

CHANGED

An eastern senator visited a barbershop where the barber, failing to recognize his patron, was very talka-tive.

He ventured on all the timely topics of the day, and although the senator apparently did not enter into the spirit of the conversation very keenly, the tonsorial artist's enthusiasm was not visibly dampened.

Finally he asked:

"Have you ever been here before?"

"Once," said the senator.

"Strange that I don't recall your face."

"Not at all," the senator assured
him. "It has altered greatly in healing."

something in them which "might be construed" to be a reflection of that nature, so they have appointed a committee of three to draw up a resolution expressing the sense of the conference, this resolution to be forwarded to congress at Washington.

Elder J. O. Corliss of Glendale spoke this morning in regard to this matter, and stated that already 1400
petitions, protesting against the bill,
have been sent to congress from southern California alone. Elder Corliss also stated that the legislature in Sacramento is considering a Sunday bill which is almost identical with the one which was defeated
at the last election by a large majority. He says the only item in the new bill which is different, is the eight hour feature. Elder Corliss also objects to the bill now being introduced in Sacramento concerning the reading of the bible in the public schools, because he thinks that from the wording of the bill,
the court will be called upon to decide certain questions, and thus the matter of religion will be brought into the courts of the state.

The conference has decided to send someone to Sacramento to investigate these matters.

GOOD SHIP OREGON

The battleship Oregon is entering the last brilliant stage of a historic career.

Refitted, repaired, repainted and,
in some ways, more capable than
in her youth, the Oregon is on her way east from Puget Sound to lead the international fleet through the Panama canal.

She is commanded by Commander Joseph M. Reeves, who was an assistant engineer when the ship made her famous cruise around the horn.

On board of her are Captain Frederick Ramsey of the marine corps and a number of enlisted men, who were in service in 1898.

The Oregon will go down in naval annals as one of the most notable fighting ships of the American nation.
The keel of the Oregon was laid at the yards of the Union Iron works in San Francisco November 19, 1891.
Two years later she was launched,
and after making a trial speed of 17.79 knots—remarkably fast for a first-class battleship—she was commissioned July 15, 1896.

February 15, 1898, saw the destruction of the Maine. The assembling of Cervera's fleet and ominous demonstrations in both countries
made a war between Spain and the United States inevitable. Disturbing rumors as to the strength of Cervera's fleet led the navy department to call on the Oregon, then at San Francisco.

Charles Edgar Clark, then a captain, was assigned to her command.
On March 19, 1898, Clark set sail
south.

Sixty-seven days later the weather observer at Jupiter inlet notified the telegraph office at Jupiter, Fla., that a strange warship had anchored.
There was tension along the coast
until the identity of the ship was established.

It was the Oregon.

It was a record run, for the Oregon
had done something which no other battleship had up to that time accomplished and which none henceforth need attempt. She had weathered the hurricanes of the straits of Ma-gellan, avoided a Spanish torpedo boat supposed to be lurking in the stormy waters and reached the Atlantic coast in fit condition to participate in the battle of Santiago.

Those were the days when the Oregon occupied a place alongside the Maine in public affection.

The voyage of 14,706 miles was in itself a feat, and Captain Clark's conduct at Santiago was more notable.

After the Spanish fleet had been crushed Schley's famous signal to Clark, "Oregon, well done!" immediately became one of the phrases of the Spanish-American war.

preachers present to remember that he had borrowed a hymn book for the express purpose of using the song on the old-fashioned way which he is now resolved to return to the rightful owner. Soon umbrellas and tabernacle song books perhaps not paid
for will be considered personal property belonging to the rightful owner.
Brother Lord is the custodian of the hymn books and the tabernacle in general.

Rev. Brown's scripture lesson was from Rev. 2:12-14: "Who taught Balaam to cast a stumbling block before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols" was selected as a text.

The preacher's account of idol service and what was implied in eating things sacrificed to idols made the application of his theme to modern conditions very clear. There must be no connection between the saint and the things of this world lest we lose our influence for good, especially in leading souls to Christ.

The church of Jesus Christ is not hurt most by outbreking, flagrant sin, such as drinking, gambling, etc., but by the merging of the church into the world in so-called legitimate pleasures, such as dancing, theater-going, card parties, etc.

The church of Jesus Christ has been paralyzed by three great Atlantic tidal waves: First, disloyalty to God and his book; second, worldliness; third, sinful indulgence. These end in one great disaster, loss of influence.

Personal influence counts for more than stacks of money.

Here the preacher made a sweeping appeal along the line of personal influence which will not soon be forgotten by those who listened in rapt attention.

How we are never the same after meeting each other, the influence of every life operating upon other lives,
how we are all writing on deathless spirits, how certain organizations kill influence for Christ, how many of our strongest citizens exert no influence for Christ, how some preachers make the church play a second fiddle to the organizations of the world and thus play the role of Judas Iscariot
to the bride of Christ, how many side-track the church for social engagements, how impossible it is for a Christian to go and talk to lost men and women about their soul's condition when stepping out of the atmosphere of the ballroom or theater,
how Christian influence is destroyed
for even a little indulgence in worldly pleasures—and so on and on in a perfect torrent of logic and conviction—the fearless evangelist cut his way into the conscience of thousands making it clear that more than having one's name on the church roll is essential to being a Christian, that there are some church members who
"might as well have their names written on the prison wall of hell as on a church record. "Brother-mine!"

"Liquor and religion cannot stay in the same hide."—Sam Jones.

The report of the Sunday evening service will appear in tomorrow's Glendale Evening News.

The following announcements of importance will interest thousands:

Commencing Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 Evangelist Brown will deliver a series of lectures on "The Personality and Work of the Holy Ghost."

Each of the lectures will be complete in itself, but especially will the first lecture help to an appreciation of those to follow. Wherever Rev.
Brown has been and returned a second time he is requested to repeat these famous lectures. Business men who can possibly get away for afternoons could not put in a better vacation than in hearing these matchless discourses. Of course every sister will be there. There is great expectancy. Brother Curry will continue his gracious ministry of song
at all services.

This week is crowded with special features. Tropic night, school night and nights for the various churches
will be announced each day.

There was a splendid rally of the young people of the churches cooperating at the Baptist church. Mr.
Kendrick, the president of the local
B. Y. P. U., had charge. The auditorium was filled.

There will be no service tonight.
Next service Tuesday at 2:30 promptly. Bring your song book.

PAID THE FINE

A policeman in a country village
where "cases" were rare one day
came across his landlord in an incapable state. The chance was too good to be missed, so the landlord was summoned and fined to the amount of 14s. 6d. The fine was paid, but the policeman's feelings were better imagined than described when, on reaching home, he found his rent had been raised six pence per week, and so it continued for twenty-nine weeks, when the landlord coolly informed him that he had paid the fine and could have his house at the former rent.—London Answers.

INDUSTRIAL PROTECTION

There is a movement on foot among the substantial citizens of Glendale to be ready to extend a glad hand to all manufacturers and operators of machinery doing business within the city limits of Glendale. These gentlemen who are engaged in industrial pursuits are living exponents of that most essential to the welfare of a community, and may it be far from the disposition of anybody to discourage them in their noble and worthy avocations.

STARVATION ENTERS

It seems that the second phase of the great war has been reached—the test of endurance as to food resources.

Thus far gunpowder, the great arbiter, evangelizer and civilizer, according to certain thinkers, has had the stage to himself. Now enters starvation.

The Kaiser has confiscated all the grain and flour in Germany to conserve the nation's food supply. It is to keep back starvation from Germany.

The British have declared that they will seize as contraband all vessels bearing food to Germany. It is to bring starvation upon Germany
quicker.

The Kaiser's submarines are sinking British merchant ships even off the west coast of Ireland. It is to bring starvation upon the British.

We have had, for six months, the reading of accounts of slaughter and burial of thousands of armed men.
The scientific slaughter of the unarmed has begun. It is one thing to take a gun and go out to fight for country's sake, or a principle's sake, or for nothing's sake. Such a man easily works himself up to feeling that God blesses his bloody business, that he is defending something that's precious, even that it is glorious to die for country, no matter how miserable his condition has been. It is quite another thing to watch one's wife and babes starve, to hear children's moans instead of the cheers
of the charging ranks, see death crawling upon loved ones inch by inch, hour by hour, and stand by it all with helpless hands.

There are three stages of war—
fighting, starvation and pestilence.
There are three kinds of war victims
—those who die in blood, those who die through hunger and pestilence, and those who live in loneliness and mourning. Cruelty ends with the trenches of dead at the front, or in the graves behind the hospitals at the rear. 'Tis they who starve who are the scourged.

The allies and Germans have each other by the throat with a grip that neither seems able to break. Success on the Yser today, retreat tomorrow. Continuous artillery duels.
Thousands dead from that last charge
at Ypres, other thousands in Alsace.
"Nothing new to report." But back in the crowded cities, in the pretty little cottages, in the poor garrets,
in the packed tenements where the ordinary struggle for life is terrible enough, begins a greater, more awful war—the war of hunger upon women and children. Starvation, merciless, remorseless, impartial. And look at the powerful ally that starvation has
in its mobilization against the helpless! It is man's thought, which produced the submarine, the dread-naught, and other destroyers of good ships bearing food, or blockaders of a people's supplies.

The soldier in his grave has fought
his fight. His widow and orphans,
